

Matthew Higgins

Senior Product Designer

I'm a British product designer with an interest in how design, data and engineering can transform lives.

Experience

Barclays

Design Lead, Sep 2015 – Present

Currently, I am the Design Lead for Platforms. A programme dedicated to releasing new products and services aimed at connecting the interactions between our customer base of individuals, small businesses and big corporations.

Previous to that role, I was the Senior Designer for Barclays' design system. Working very closely with all of the design and engineering teams within the Barclays Group to create a beautiful design system for iOS, Android and web.

Deltatre

Digital Designer, Nov 2010 – Sep 2015

During my time at Deltatre, I worked on many projects among the UxD team. Below are a selection.

The official London 2012 website, iOS and Android app.
BBC's "Intelligent video player". Channel 4's 2012 & 2016 Paralympic website, iOS and Android app. FIFA.com.
Europeantour.com, iOS and Android app. Englandrugby.com.
UEFA Champions League and Europa League TV graphics package. Premier League's Match Tracker.
